

Request for Proposals
Owners/Developers of Rental Housing to Participate in HUD Section 811 Project Rental Assistance Program

INTRODUCTION

Through this Request for Proposals (inclusive of all attachments, this “RFP”), Rhode Island Housing seeks proposals from local qualified owners and developers of affordable rental housing, who are interested in providing apartments for homeless and disabled persons receiving rental subsidy through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development’s (“HUD’s”) Section 811 Project Rental Assistance program (the “Program”). The selected owners and developers will be required to meet all applicable fair housing, civil rights, accessibility, environmental, lead paint, and other requirements set forth in the federal regulations governing the Program and other HUD guidelines. The regulations are codified at title 24, part 891 of the Code of Federal Regulations. The Program Guidelines are attached as Attachment B.

Rhode Island Housing is seeking units that will be available for occupancy beginning in approximately January 2017. Tenants will be matched with these units through an application process and waiting list to be administered by Rhode Island Housing. Please note that this RFP solicits applications for participation in a federal rental subsidy program, not for project financing.

INSTRUCTIONS

Proposals may not exceed fifteen (15) pages, single-spaced, using normal 1-inch margins and a 12-inch font. One (1) original and three (3) copies of the proposal should be submitted to Rhode Island Housing, 44 Washington Street, Providence, RI 02903-1721, Attn: Latoshia Denson, with an electronic courtesy copy to ldenson@rihousing.com. Proposals must be concise and include all attachments and work samples. Proposals must be presented on business letterhead.

Proposals will be received on a rolling basis to maximize the number of units available to fulfill program requirements.

Respondents are advised that all submissions (including those not selected for engagement) may be made available to the public on request upon completion of the process and award of a contract(s).

Attachment A

Scope of Work

Through this Request for Proposals (“RFP”), Rhode Island Housing seeks proposals from local qualified owners and developers of affordable rental housing, who are interested in providing apartments for homeless and disabled persons receiving rental subsidy through the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development’s (“HUD’s”) Section 811 Project Rental Assistance program (the “Program”). The selected owners and developers will be required to meet all applicable fair housing, civil rights, accessibility, environmental, lead paint, and other requirements set forth in the federal regulations governing the Program and other HUD guidelines. The regulations are codified at title 24, part 891 of the Code of Federal Regulations (the “Program Regulations”). HUD’s Section 811 Program Guidelines are attached hereto as Attachment B. Participating owners will receive rental subsidies for units dedicated to the Program, in accordance with the Program Regulations. Subsidies will be processed and administered by Rhode Island Housing.

Rhode Island Housing is seeking units that will be available for occupancy beginning in approximately January 2017. Tenants will be matched with these units through an application process and waiting list to be administered by Rhode Island Housing.

Background

The Section 811 Project Rental Assistance Program is an initiative of HUD that assists extremely low-income people with disabilities to live independently in the community by providing rental subsidies linked with voluntary supportive services. The Program is operated by state housing agencies in collaboration with state Medicaid and health and human services organizations. In Rhode Island, the Program will be operated by Rhode Island Housing in collaboration with the Rhode Island Executive Office of Health and Human Services (EOHHS) and the Rhode Island Department of Behavioral Healthcare, Developmental Disabilities, and Hospitals (BHDDH).

In March 2015, Rhode Island Housing received an award of approximately $5.6 million, which funding is anticipated to provide project-based assistance for 150 units statewide for 5 years. Renewal funding is expected to support rental subsidies for these units for an additional 15 years. This RFP solicits applications from owners and developers of rental housing to provide the units that will be supported by these Program rental subsidies.

General Program Description

Program subsidies are project-based and remain with the housing unit at tenant turnover. Assisted individuals/families contribute 30% of their monthly household income towards rent, in accordance with the Program Regulations and other HUD rules, and the Program subsidy covers the balance.

Tenant Eligibility

- Tenants must be extremely low-income (at or below 30 percent of the median income for the area);
- At least one adult member of the household must have a disability;
- At least one person in the assisted household must be non-elderly (ages 18-61);
- Tenants must have the ability to fulfill the lease requirements with reasonable accommodation (if applicable); and
- The household member with the disability must belong to one of the following target populations:
 - Individuals living in institutional settings who
 - Have been identified by the Nursing Home Transition Program (NHTP), Money Follows the Person (MFP) Program, or Managed Care Organization (MCO) as appropriate for safe transition; or
 - Reside in a mental health or psychiatric rehabilitative residence; or
 - High users of Medicaid services who are also homeless and who have applied for and been placed on Rhode Island's Universal Waitlist.

Services to Tenants

Selected owners and developers will be required to facilitate the provision of services to the tenants participating in the Program, although they will not be required to provide these services directly. Rather, Rhode Island Housing has entered into an agreement with BHDDH and EOHHS to provide services, such as case management, transportation, employment support, support for development independent living skills, mental health services, connection to Medicaid services, and assistance obtaining appropriate medical care. Program participants may choose to participate in these services, but will not be required to do so.

Eligibility Requirements for Developments and Units

The Program provides rental assistance to affordable housing developments financed with federal Low-Income Housing Tax Credits, HOME funds, or other governmental funding sources. Section 811 rental assistance may be used in a development that already contains some project-based units or other long term operating assistance, but cannot be used for units that already receive a project-based or long-term operating subsidy (or have received any such subsidy within the previous 6 months).

The selected development owners will provide primarily one bedroom and efficiency units for leasing in connection with the Program. Rhode Island Housing will also consider studio and single room occupancy (SRO) units. It is preferable that properties offer some two-bedroom units to accommodate tenants' needs. The final unit mix will be approved by Rhode Island Housing based on demand. It is also preferable that properties provide access to community amenities such jobs, transportation, recreation, retail services, health care, and social services.

Requirements for Owners

- Owners must sign the following agreements with Rhode Island Housing to participate in the Program:
 - Agreement to Enter into a Section 811 Rental Assistance Contract that commits the owner to participate in the Program with respect to a particular development (for new construction projects only).
 - Rental Assistance Contract (RAC) providing for rental assistance payments for specified units for a period of 20 years. Rhode Island Housing has the ability to modify the number of Program-assisted units in the RAC as the needs of the Program change over time.
 - Use Agreement that restricts a specific number of units for use by extremely low-income persons with disabilities for a minimum of 30 years.
- Rhode Island Housing has the ability to terminate the RAC and/or Use Agreement if Congress does not authorize funding beyond the initial five-year period. Rhode Island Housing does not intend to enforce a RAC or Use Agreement if Congress fails to appropriate funds adequate to meet the financial needs of covered units.
- Owners must use HUD's Section 811 model lease.
- Owners must obtain access to HUD's Secure Systems. HUD requires the use of the Enterprise Income Verification (EIV) system to verify tenant household income.

Inspections

Owners must permit Program-supported units to undergo periodic physical inspections consistent with Uniform Physical Construction Standards, as required by HUD. To the extent feasible, Rhode Island Housing will align these inspections with those required for other programs.

Tenant Referral

Rhode Island Housing will perform marketing and tenant outreach for the Section 811 Program, and qualify applicants for Program eligibility. Rhode Island Housing will maintain the applicant waiting list and refer applicants to property owners/managers when a vacancy is anticipated. Owners/managers are responsible for screening tenants for occupancy in accordance with their Tenant Selection Plans. Owners/managers are responsible for maintaining a Tenant Selection Plan that complies with the Program Regulations, other applicable HUD requirements, as well as local, state, and federal laws and ordinances.

Environmental Requirements

The Program does not impose additional environmental requirements for properties that are already HUD-assisted or HUD-insured (provided that there are no physical changes beyond routine maintenance and minimal repairs); however, properties that are not already HUD-assisted or HUD-insured must demonstrate that they are free of hazardous materials, contamination, toxic chemicals and gases, and radioactive substances, where a hazard could affect health and safety or conflict with the property's intended use. To satisfy this requirement, projects must submit the following prior to the execution of a rental assistance contract: Phase I environmental Site Assessment, or certify that the site (i) is not listed on an EPA Superfund National Priorities, CERCLA or equivalent list; (ii) is not located within 3,000 feet of a toxic or solid waste landfill site; (iii) does not have an underground storage tank other than a residential fuel tank; and (iv) is not known or suspected to be contaminated by toxic chemicals or radioactive materials.

Serving Individuals with Disabilities

Owners and property managers must comply with all applicable fair housing and civil rights statutes, regulations and ordinances. Tenant referrals and screening processes must comply with Rhode Island Housing's Affirmative Fair Housing Marketing Plan. Rhode Island Housing, EOHHS, and/or BHDDH can provide coaching, information, and materials to participating property management staff in support of their efforts to improve customer service for persons with disabilities and develop cultural competency.

The Program provides a robust service platform for tenants who wish to participate. Rhode Island Housing, EOHHS and BHDDH are committed to ensuring that service providers are available to individuals and families receiving Section 811 rental assistance. While owners are not required to provide these services directly, they must cooperate with Rhode Island Housing, EOHHS, BHDDH, and their agents to support the delivery of services.

Only upon receipt of a tenant's written permission may a property manager communicate with the tenant's case manager, counselor, or other service provider about the tenant. No Section 811 tenant may be denied admission for choosing not to provide such written permission. If a property manager chooses to develop a form for this purpose, the form must indicate that it is optional.

Unit Damage

Owners may collect a security deposit in the amount of one month of the tenant's portion of the contract rent or $50, whichever is greater. Program funds may not be used to reimburse owners for unit damages. Owners may collect any charges for unit damage that federal or state law allows. An owner may deduct amounts owed by the family from a security deposit, consistent with local law, but any remaining balance must be refunded to the family or Rhode Island Housing, when applicable

Payment Process

Owners must submit monthly electronic requisitions through HUD's computerized Tenant Rental Assistance Certification System ("TRACS"). Owners must make their electronic submissions into TRACS using standard HUD forms, following all HUD manuals and practice guides. Requisition requests must be entered into TRACS by the 10th day of each month in order to secure payment for the following month. Rhode Island Housing will require owners to participate in direct deposit for the purpose of subsidy payments.

Special Claims

Rhode Island Housing will provide vacancy payments for covered units for owners that have signed RACs, during initial lease-up and thereafter. Special claims for vacancy payments may not exceed 80 percent of the contract rent for up to 60 days of vacancy.

Compliance with HUD Rules and Regulations

Selected owners and developers will be required to comply with the Program Regulations and all applicable HUD rules and guidance with respect to the Program. As a result, the selected owners and developers must have read and have a thorough knowledge and understanding of the Program Regulations, the Program Guidelines at Attachment B, and other HUD requirements. By submitting an application responsive to this RFP, an owner or developer certifies that the units proposed to be supported with Program subsidies are eligible under the Program, and meet all applicable affordability, energy, environmental, lead-based paint, labor standards, accessibility, fair housing, and other criteria.
