

INTERCONNECTION FOR COMMUNITY REMOTE NET METERING PILOT

SUPPLEMENTAL APPLICATION DIRECTIONS FOR LOW OR MODERATE-INCOME HOUSING ELIGIBLE CREDIT RECIPIENTS

All customers applying for the Community Remote Net Metering Pilot must obtain an allocation of capacity under the 30MW cap from National Grid. Customers applying for such capacity must provide or show proof of the following:

1. Complete Impact Study for Renewable Distributed Generation or a valid fully executed interconnection service agreement;
2. Site control for the location of the Eligible Net Metering System; and
3. A performance deposit equal to $25 multiplied by the expected annual megawatt-hour output of the system or $75,000, whichever is less.

In addition, to qualify as a Low or Moderate-Income Housing Eligible Credit Recipient, the recipient must obtain a Certification from Rhode Island Housing that all of the Low and Moderate-Income Housing Eligible Credit criteria is met.

To obtain such Certification, fill out the attached application and provide all required supplemental materials as one complete application. Applications deemed incomplete will be set aside until full application requirements are met. Complete certification applications will be considered and evaluated on a first come, first served basis. Certified applications should then submit their certification to National Grid as supplement to your previously submitted application.

Please provide evidence or a written explanation establishing that the proposed Community Remote Net Metering Pilot Credit Recipient is a public agency, nonprofit organization, limited equity housing cooperative or a private developer that owns a property that meets the following criteria.

1. A statement identifying the federal, state or municipal program under which the LMI Property receives assistance, and a summary description of the program and the assistance provided;
2. A statement specifying the total number of housing units at the LMI Property, and the number of units which are set aside for occupancy by households with annual income that does not exceed eighty percent of AMI;

3. A rent schedule for the LMI Property, by unit type, specifying the number of bedrooms in each unit type and the total rental charge for each unit type, and the total utility allowance for each unit type, if applicable;
4. A copy of the Use Agreement, along with evidence that the Use Agreement is recorded in the land evidence records of the community where the LMI Property is located, including the book and page of recording;
5. A schedule of the anticipated benefits to the property from the credit purchase agreement or remote net-metering credit agreement sufficient to determine the anticipated Net Value of the Credits;
6. A statement describing the way in which the Net Value of the Credits will be used to provide benefits to tenants of the LMI Property;
7. A non-refundable application fee of $200.00 payable to Rhode Island Housing; and
8. A certification signed by an authorized representative of the Applicant and LMI Property acknowledging that:
 - a. The LMI Property must comply with the “Benefit to Tenants” provisions of the recent amendments to Chapter 26.4 of Title 39 of the General Laws entitled “Net Metering” (the “Act”), as a condition of eligibility for receipt of Credits, including submission of an annual compliance certification to Rhode Island Housing and such other information as Rhode Island Housing may reasonably require to determine compliance with the Act;
 - b. Applicant will only be eligible to receive net-metering credits during the period that the Use Agreement remains in full force and effect;
 - c. Applicant or LMI Property will be responsible for an annual monitoring fee of $50, or such amount approved by the Public Utilities Commission (“PUC”), to Rhode Island Housing to cover the costs of compliance monitoring under the Act.

Rhode Island Housing will conduct an initial review of the application to determine whether the LMI Property qualifies as a Low or Moderate Income Housing Eligible Credit Recipient under the Act, and will promptly notify the Applicant of its determination.
