

REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS

FOR THE DEVELOPMENT OF AFFORDABLE RENTAL HOMES

Proposals are due before 4:00 p.m. on Monday December 20, 2021

RIHousing seeks proposals for 2022 Low Income Housing Tax Credits (LIHTC). LIHTC applications will be accepted for proposals that request financing for the construction and/or rehabilitation of properties to be used as affordable rental homes in Rhode Island.

Applicants are encouraged to review the 2022 Qualified Allocation Plan to ensure familiarity with program requirements, but Proposals must:

- (i) Meet the required minimum set aside requirement of the Section 42 program.
- (ii) Create a minimum of 20 new units.
- (iii) For applications proposing preservation, 30% of the overall units in an application or 20 units, whichever is greater, must be newly created affordable homes.
- (iv) As the LIHTC is a highly competitive and scarce resource, no single development may be awarded more than 40% of Rhode Island's annual small-state minimum allocation.

Applicants for 2022 LIHTC may also concurrently request funds from the following programs:

- HOME and Housing Trust Funds (HTF) – Applicants may request either or both HOME and HTF funds. There will not be a separate HOME or HTF application if Applicants are submitting funding requests as part of this RFP. For more information regarding HOME and HTF contact Lauren Farley at 401-429-1412 or lfarley@rihousing.com.
- Project Based rental assistance under the Section 811 PRA Demonstration Program. Up to 25% of the units in the development can be Section 811 units. If awarded rental assistance, the owner will enter into a Rental Assistance Contract for 20 years and execute a 30-year Use Agreement for the 811 units in the development. For more information regarding 811, contact Jessica Mowry at 401-277-1564 or jmowry@rihousing.com.
- Preservation Loan Fund – For proposals that include the Preservation of existing deed restricted affordable housing that has completed its initial LIHTC compliance period, Preservation Loan Funds are available. For more information regarding the Preservation Loan Fund, contact Anne Berman at 401-457-1269 or aberman@rihousing.com.
