Scope of Work

I. Services to be Provided

RIHousing is seeking a qualified consultant to provide project management services for the Healthy Housing, Healthy Communities Initiative. The successful candidate will work with RIHousing staff to carry out the planning process which culminates in the Housing, Health and Equity Partnership Plan. The process will consist of assembling stakeholders from across healthcare, housing, supportive services, and community-based providers to craft a plan that identifies processes, projects and commitments to promote housing opportunities for vulnerable populations, with a priority for service-enriched housing.

II. Project Schedule

The project is expected to begin August 22nd and run through December 31, 2023.

III. Project Approach

The goal of the Healthy Housing, Health Communities Initiative is to assemble and align resources across healthcare, housing, support services, and community-based providers to finance new affordable housing units in five Health Equity Zones across the state and ensure that sustainable mainstream supportive services are in place to ensure successful housing opportunities for vulnerable households.

The Health Equity Zones are a RI Department of Health initiative that use a backbone organization to coordinate community led, place based approaches to eliminate unjust health disparities and enhance the socioeconomic and environmental conditions of neighborhoods across the state.

RIHousing selected 5 of the 15 HEZs that have prioritized housing as a signature initiative and are located in the six cities with the highest rates of child poverty. Each HEZ consists of diverse partners that include federally qualified health centers, community development corporations, accountable care organizations, Rhode Island's largest hospital system, the local PACE and LISC initiatives, local community action programs, community mental health centers, visiting nurse associations, housing authorities and a diverse group of non-traditional service providers.

In partnership with the RI Executive Office of Health and Human Services and the RI Department of Health, the successful consultant will work with the RIHousing team to build on existing work that has centered on decreasing rates of lead poisoning, developing a Medicaid reimbursement to provide housing stabilization and housing locator services, and coordinate investments from our accountable care organizations, MCOs, federally-qualified health centers, and community development corporations.

Respondent Name: _____

We anticipate an initial assessment of each HEZ’s readiness to proceed with planning and need for technical assistance, followed by customized technical assistance plans for each community. As part of the planning process, we will work with each HEZ’s backbone organization and their respective development partners to develop or align healthcare and supportive services, obtain site control, establish development and operating proformas, and secure healthcare partner investments. The goal is to develop a diverse pipeline of healthcare supported affordable housing projects and to establish a framework for replicating this method throughout the state.

IV. Budget and Payment Terms

RIHousing has made available $60,000 for the purpose of engaging a consultant to undertake the project planning in coordination with RIHousing staff. The duration of the engagement is expected to be in effect through December 31, 2023 and payments will be made quarterly.
