Q: The RFP is asking for a current client roster. Is the purpose to provide references or is there some other purpose? Presuming we are talking about just our department's clients I am trying to understand what to disclose. We would have hundreds of clients and not sure it would be ok for all of them to be disclosed.

A: It would be satisfactory for the department that would be providing services under the RFP to share a sample client roster for which similar services were provided.
